New Mexico State University

A land-grant university and NASA Space Grant College, New Mexico State University thrives in education, research and public service. As a Carnegie R1 Institution, NMSU is recognized for its excellence in research, teaching, and public service. Nestled between the Organ Mountains and the Mesilla Valley, the 900-acre campus is home to more than 14,000 graduate and undergraduate students from across the country and around the world. Since its founding in 1888, NMSU has served a diverse population of talented students and has charmed many visitors with its vast campus beauty.

The William Conroy Honors College at NMSU is the first of its kind in the state of New Mexico. Guided by experienced master professors, undergraduate students from all majors have the opportunity to immerse themselves in challenging courses, participate in innovative research, compete for prestigious awards and graduate with honors status.

The NMSU system prepares graduates by delivering hands-on experiences at the university's four campuses located in Las Cruces, Doña Ana County, Alamogordo and Grants. In addition to educating students, NMSU strives to advance research and deliver information to all New Mexicans through efforts at cooperative Extension offices in all 33 counties, and 12 agricultural science centers across the state.

As New Mexico State University President, Valerio Ferme leads the state's comprehensive research, land-grant university excelling in teaching, research, and public service. He previously served as Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost, as well as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, at the University of Cincinnati (UC).

A firm believer in student success, Ferme supported numerous access and retention investments on the behalf of students at UC. At the same time, during his tenure there as provost, the colleges more than doubled hires of underrepresented faculty; and the provost's office launched a post-doctoral program to attract diverse, prospective faculty candidates; provided permanent professional funds for employee resource groups; created a provost faculty fellow program; and addressed salary minima for advising staff and adjunct faculty.

A native of Italy holding dual citizenship, Ferme earned undergraduate degrees in Biology and Religious Studies at Brown University, Masters in Comparative Literature and Italian Studies from Indiana University and a Ph.D. in Comparative Literature from UC Berkeley, where he was awarded Fulbright and Chancellor's Fellowships.

Valerio Ferme, Ph.D.

The Aggie Fight Song!

Aggies, Oh Aggies!

The hills send back the cry,

We're here to do or die!

Aggies, Oh Aggies!

We'll win this game or know the reason why!

And when we win this game,

We'll buy a keg of booze,

And we'll drink it to the Aggies 'til we wobble in our shoes!

A---G---G---I---E---S---!

AGGIES! AGGIES!

GO AGGIES!

Aggies, Oh Aggies!

The hills send back the cry,

We're here to do or die!

Aggies, Oh Aggies!

We'll win this game or know the reason why!
